

DELEGATES FROM JAPAN TRY TO HALT FAILURE

Two Delegates Call Upon Gibson At Naval Disarmament Parley

SUGGEST AGREEMENT

Think Four-Year Naval Holiday Would Be The Thing

GENEVA, Aug. 2 (I.N.S.)—Japan's delegates to the tri-partite naval disarmament conference are making a last minute effort to save the conference from complete failure.

Viscount Admiral Saito and other Japanese delegates, called upon Hugh Gibson, chief American delegate, late last night and stressed the importance of not permitting the conference to adjourn on Thursday without some fruit.

The Japanese suggest that an agreement to prevent a race in armaments between now and 1931 will do much to save the situation. They suggest that the British, American and Japanese delegates may be able to reach an agreement concerning building programs between now and 1931 when the Washington treaty will come up for renewal.

The Japanese have suggested, what is tantamount to, a naval holiday for the next four years, with the United States bringing its eight-inch gun cruisers up to a parity with the British.

The American delegates called on the Japanese today and pointed out that since the building program of the United States is in the hands of Congress, it is impossible for them to give a definite pledge on such a program.
It is understood, however, that Hugh Gibson has consulted Washington on the matter.

At noon the Hon. W. C. Bridgeman, chief British delegate, saw the Japanese and received a report on their negotiations.

If there appears to be any chance of an agreement the plenary session may be postponed from Thursday, and it is admitted that any sort of an agreement would be welcomed to save the conference from total failure.

W. C. T. U. Members To Hold State Convention

W. C. T. U. members in this state are looking forward with interest to the national convention of the organization to be held in Minneapolis, Minn., August 25-September 1, because it will be the last national W. C. T. U. convention before the presidential nominations and election campaign of 1928. Policies adopted at Minneapolis will guide the women drags of America and may have as much effect on the future of prohibition in America as the policies adopted at the two previous Minnesota conventions had upon the politics and economics of the past forty years.

The 18th amendment itself owes a large debt to the first Minneapolis convention held in 1886 and presided over by the immortal Frances Willard who then made one of her first public appeals for constitutional prohibition.
At that time even temperance was looked on as radical, while prohibition by fundamental law in some quarters was looked on as insanity. In the face of all this Frances Willard was the first national woman leader to preach the idea that "prohibition is the best method of dealing with the liquor traffic," a theory which the W. C. T. U. has adopted as a slogan for the coming year.

In addition to launching the campaign for prohibition by constitutional amendment, the earlier Minneapolis convention adopted the policy of promoting temperance education in the public schools, which many historians and commentators have declared is the greatest work done by the W. C. T. U. or any other woman's organization.

The other Minnesota convention was that of 1895 at St. Paul, a few months after the death of Frances Willard.
As a memorial to the great woman leader the convention took steps to expand the work of the organization she had helped to start and which leaped to fame under her administration. The present organization, with 20,000 local organizations and more than half a million members is directly traceable to the organizing policies adopted at St. Paul.

It can be confidently predicted that the National W. C. T. U. convention in August will be as firmly directed toward an uncompromising stand on prohibition as were the earlier conventions. One of the features of the program will be a demonstration of the recent gains in membership which the officers say will be a living refutation of the claims of the wets. Another feature will be the addresses of many modern leaders in contemporary thought and politics. Among these are: W. W. Peck, secretary, Prohibition Federation of Canada; Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president United Society for Christian Endeavor; Robert L. Owen, formerly senator from Oklahoma, co-author of the federal reserve act; Andrew Volstead, author of the dry law.

Councilman Burgner Advocates Commission

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 2.—Appointment of a shade tree commission to supervise the planting of trees on all residential streets of the borough is being agitated by Councilman George W. Burgner. The subject was suggested at the last meeting of Common Council by Burgner, and while no action was taken, the Third Ward councilman expects to see that steps are taken to bring about the naming of such a commission.

Burgner pointed out many streets where there are no shade trees, while in other sections they are not cared for properly. There are many sections which have been beautified by the trees, however, and it is the coun-cilman's plan to have every residential street or avenue improved.

The shade tree commission, after it is appointed, will also have supervision over the trimming of the trees.
Systematic surveys will be made from time to time so that trees will be kept in good condition and additional ones planted where new streets are developed.

CANNOT BUY BEAUTY IN BOTTLES, HE SAYS

Many of So-Called Skin Foods Are Worthless, Says
Health Official

OTHER STATE NEWS

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 2 (I.N.S.) —Real beauty cannot be purchased in bottles or boxes, Dr. Theodore R. Appel, State Secretary of Health, said today in discussing the millions of dollars which are spent annually in a vain effort to attain beauty.

The value of most beautifiers, he warned, is limited to the artistic field.
As an example he cited the so-called skin foods which, he said, are worthless for their supposed purposes. The skin, Dr. Appel said, cannot be fed by external applications.

Dr. Appel suggested that a little less paint and powder and the application of fundamental rules for good health were the best means of attaining health and beauty.

The rules which he suggested were:

1. Walk two miles each day, rain or shine.
2. Eat moderately and chew what you eat.
3. Avoid appetite destroyers.
4. Work with your body. Muscles were meant for use.
5. Avoid self-medication.
6. Keep the bowels regular.
7. Eliminate worry so far as possible.
8. Cultivate happiness.

"To carry out these rules will cause more effort than the use of lipstick and powder puff," the doctor warned, "but the results will justify it."

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Aug. 2 (I.N.S.) —Buddy will meet buddy in a reunion of the regiment of light field artillery composed of Lawrence, Butler and Beaver county veterans, here, September 24. About 500 men are expected to attend. The regiment saw service in the Argonne and the Meuse-Argonne battles.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 2 (I.N.S.)— Yesterday saw the inauguration of special government reports on weather conditions over the Beaver Valley, said to be the nastiest section of the United States air mail route between Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

W. Edward Eakin, Beaver Falls, veteran river observer, has been appointed by William S. Brotzman, chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau here, to file daily reports to Bettis Field, Mc-Keesport, the terminus of the Pittsburgh-Youngstown-Cleveland route.

Aviators at Bettis Field say the most dangerous points are near Beaver Falls, in Beaver County, and near Enon, in the extreme southwest corner of Lawrence County.

When the pilots hop off from Bettis Field, they nose their planes toward Pittsburgh. Then they follow the Ohio River and the railroads passing over Sewickley Heights, Woodlawn, Monaca and numerous small communities, to Beaver.

From Beaver they leave the Ohio and follow the railroad to Beaver Falls where they start a direct line to Youngstown, E. passing over the section known as Enon Valley.

Although several forced landings have been made near Enon Valley the pilots say the difficulties in landing safely are less than at Beaver Falls, chiefly because of the great number of fields.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Aug. 2 (I.N.S.) —Mrs. Cecil Potter, of this city, has often heard about alligators, but she never dreamed she would come in close contact with one of the reptiles.

Recently, Mrs. Potter reported, she was frightened while cleaning the cellar of her home when something that felt as though it had an innumerable number of teeth grabbed her by the ankle.

Investigation proved her assailant was a 14-inch alligator that had escaped from its pen at the home of one of her neighbors.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry McMullen and son, Harry, of 236 Mill street, spent the past week-end in Baltimore and other places of interest in Maryland.
The trip was made by motor.

Crippled Children Visit Historic Spot And Then Go To Amusement Park As Guests of Local Elks

Annual Outing Held for Children of Bristol and Vicinity — Luncheon and Dinner Are Both Served To The Youngsters — A Big Day for All Crippled children of Bristol and vicinity were royally entertained yesterday by Bristol Lodge, No. 970, B. P.

O. Elks. The Crippled Children's Committee of the Elks called at the homes of the children yesterday morning and took the youngsters in motor cars to the Elks' Home here. The start on the day's outing was made at 10 o'clock from the Elks' Home, Radcliffe and Walnut streets. It was a happy group and the little unfortunate youngsters forgot for the time being their misfortune and their little faces were wreathed in smiles and their voices rang as if they did not have a care in the world.

From the Elks' Home here the youngsters were given a motor ride to Washington Crossing where they viewed the historic park on the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware River.
They saw the monument erected upon the spot where Washington crossed.

At this point in the program the kiddies were served with a box lunchon which was prepared by John Lynn, of Mill street, and a member of the committee. After partaking of the luncheon the trip was continued across the river into New Jersey and thence to Cadwalader Park, Trenton.
Here the children were taken around the park and visited the zoo where they saw the animals and birds. A good time was had here despite the showers.

The next stop was Woodlawn Park where the balance of the day was spent. At this point Exalted Ruler Leon Sleifer and the Bristol group joined the Trenton Elks and the crippled children of Trenton and vicinity.
All of the amusements in the park were at the disposal of the children and they certainly enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content. Big, strong, able-bodied men were seen sitting in the various devices with kiddies in their laps. It was the Elks' day and every Elk did all that he could to make it a memorable one for the children.

There was a band concert and then dinner was served in the big park restaurant and every little guest was safely tucked into an auto for the return trip to Bristol. Upon arrival here each youngster received a box of candy and other souvenirs of the day.

Those who furnished automobiles for the occasion were Frank Pfeiffer, chairman of committee; Jacob C.
Schmidt, Sr., Arthur P. Brady, John Lynn, Fred Watson, John Brehm and Leon Sleifer.

The ladies were Mrs. Arthur P.
Brady, Mrs. Philip Arensmeyer and Mrs. Frederick Krug.

CHICAGO PREPARES TO STAGE BIG BOUT

Rickard Announces Decision And Tickets To Be Put On Sale

TENTATIVE DATE GIVEN
By Gene Hoffman
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—With the announcement that tickets for the heavyweight title bout between champion Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey, the well-known vacuum hull, will go on sale here August 15, Chicago began to prepare in earnest today for Tex Rickard's big "boxing convention," which will probably be the greatest promotional venture of his career.

Definite assurance that Chicago had landed the big fight came last yesterday after Rickard was informed that the South Park Board had okayed the leasing of Soldiers' Field for the event.
The rental figure was set at $100,000.

Rickard agreed promptly to this figure and when asked by President Edward J. Kelly if this meant that Chicago gets the fight, the New York promoter replied:

"Chicago gets the fight." Rickard then set September 15 as the date and immediately established headquarters in the Congress Hotel where other details incidental to staging the big event will be arranged.
From this office the sale of tickets will also be engineered.

Although the bout is assured for Chicago, it is not certain that it will be held on September 15, the date temporarily set by Rickard. It may be postponed until one week later. Jack Dempsey, it is learned, has wired Rickard asking for a later date, giving as his reason the illness of his wife, Estelle Taylor, the movie actress.

Definite announcement of the date is expected within a day or two. Rickard and George Getz, millionaire Chicago coal dealer who has been instrumental in bringing the fight to Chicago, will appear before the Illinois Athletic Commission this afternoon to arrange promotion of the bout.

The law states that a man must be a resident of the State two years before he can take out a promoter's license. To get around this, Getz will apply for a license and act as legal promoter, while Rickard directs from the background.

John G. Rizheimer, chairman of the boxing commission, refused to predict what action the commissioners will take, but the odds are great that they will issue Mr. Getz a license as promoter and okay the fight. Governor Small, who named the commissioners, and Mayor Thompson, who appointed Getz to negotiate with Rickard, are both enthusiastic boosters of the fight.

With this detail out of the way, everything will be in readiness to proceed with actual arrangements for the epoch making, which will go 10 rounds to a decision.
Tickets will be sold at $40, $30, $25, $20, $15, $10 and $5, including tax. All seats will be reserved. Rickard announced that reservations will be honored beginning today and should be forwarded to the fight headquarters in the Congress Hotel.
A citizens' committee will surper-vised distribution of the choice $40 ducats. A record of every ticket sold within the first fifty rows will be kept by the committee. This will be done, it was explained, to forestall scalpers and to prevent the usual "ticket scandal."
Engineers will begin work at once

LATE NEWS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 2 (I.N.S.) — "Aimee and 'Ma' have made up." That was the reassuring message circulated today among members of Aimee Semple McPherson's million-dollar angelus temple regarding the bitter quarrel of the evangelist and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (I.N.S.)—Working on an underworld tip, detectives arrested today Howard West, 32, cousin of the notorious Chicago bandit, Martin Durkin, on charges of having shot and killed his wife.

BOSTON, Aug. 2 (I.N.S.)—Weak and sullen, Nicola Sacco entered the seventeenth day of his hunger strike today in State's Prison. Bartolomeo Vanzetti ate a hearty breakfast of hash, coffee, milk and bread.

START INSTALLATION OF SIX BOWLING ALLEYS

Old Commissary Building
Presents Scene of Much Activity

ELKS WILL STAGE BIG ANNUAL WATER CARNIVAL

Event Will Be Held Friday Evening, August
Twelfth

READY BY SEPT. FIRST TO GIVE MANY PRIZES
The old Commissary, at the corner of Pond and Monroe streets, as it is commonly known to Bristolians, will soon no longer be referred to by that name, but will be known as the "Bristol Recreation Centre," according to Mr. Curtis, in and around the building these days there are presented signs of earnest activity, as Mr. Curtis is endeavoring to have ready and available for September 1st, the most up-to-date recreation parlors in Bucks County, managed and conducted in a manner of which the people of Bristol will be justly proud.

The Brunswick Balke Collinder Company has contracted with Mr. Curtis to install six bowling alleys, eight pool tables and one billiard table and will start installation of same today, with a view of completing same before the end of August.

As stated in a recent issue of the Courier, the interest in bowling will be the outstanding feature of the sporting circles in Bristol this coming season of indoor sports. The additional two teams which were required to complete the ten team circuit of the Bristol Bowling League has been assured by requests from No. 1 Fire Company and the Exchange Club, both of which are capable of strong representations.

The regular monthly meeting will be held the forepart of next week at which time very important matters will be acted upon, which will include, the adoption of the schedule, which has been prepared; also the adoption of rules and by-laws governing both the association and league.

Arrangements for the association's program of participation in the opening event of the new Bristol Recreation Centre will also be taken up, as it is contemplated for the opening of the new alleys to stage an inter-city match between the best of Trenton and Bristol bowlers, and it will be expected that the Bristol representation start the season off successfully by giving the home town fans the pleasure of seeing them come through and defeat the Trenton aggregation, which is no easy task.

GRANT NEW TRIAL IN ARSON CASE; OPINION IS GIVEN

Evidence Failed To Show Any Conspiracy To Burn
Building

MISCELLANEOUS COURT

Judge Names Two Guardians
For Weak-Minded
Persons

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 2.—A motion for a new trial was allowed yesterday in the Court of Common Pleas of Bucks County in an opinion handed down by Judge William C. Ryan in the case of the Commonwealth against John Abolin and John Mushnuck alias John Edelman, of near Quakertown, who were convicted last February on a charge of conspiracy to burn down a dwelling house and defraud the Farmers American Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Bucks County.

The defendants, who were represented in the trial by former Senator Webster Grim, of this place, were charged by several officers and by members of the Edelman family with being responsible for the fire.

In the opinion, in part, it is decreed "there is not a scintilla of evidence tending to show the origin of the fire.
True, if Lulu Edelman was to be believed, the defendants talked about burning the house in 'corn husking time,' in the fall, but it is quite possible that although this conversation took place, they did not fire it three months later. The evidence must exclude this possibility to establish their guilt beyond a reasonable doubt."

In the Court of Common Pleas, in the estate of Harvey G. Shelly, a weak-minded person, the petition of the Quakertown Trust Company, guardian for additional order to pay for maintenance and support and dependency, was filed. A similar petition was filed in the estate of Thomas H. Tomlinson.

In the matter of the estate of Abraham T. Wambold, a weak-minded person, the petition for a rule upon Levi D. Stever, guardian of the estate of Owen B. Wambold, to show cause why a rule for maintenance of Abraham T.
Wambold should not be made was filed in the Court of Common Pleas.

In the Orphans' Court, in the estate of John Leonard, deceased, a petition for the discharge and satisfaction of a dower charge, was filed. In the estate of Herbert J. Hood, deceased, a petition of the widow to have $5000 in real estate adjudicated to her, was filed.

—Mrs. Helen B. Zimmerman, of Frankford, is a guest for several days of Miss Bessie Jackson, of 223 Wood street.

—Mr. Francis Whitely, of Darby, has returned to his home after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whitely, of Jefferson avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Rockel and daughter, Hannah, Mr. De Lancy, and William Bailey, of Hulmeville; Mr. and Mrs. William Barnfield and daughter, Dorothy, of Monroe street; Mabel Wilkinson and Mr. Arthur Hagerman formed a party on Sunday and motored to Ashbury Park, for a day's outing.

RIVERSIDE THEATRE

Mae Murray triumphs once more in "Valencia."

The famous heroine of "The Merry Widow" has one of the best roles of her career in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer spectacle which will be at the Riverside Theatre tonight. It has thrills, laughs, romance galore, and gorgeous spectacle and pageantry.

But, most important, it has Mae Murray. A beautiful creature in kaleidoscopic gowns, she also reaches the heights of emotional intensity in acting, under the masterly direction of Dimitri Buchowetzki.

In fact, the combination is hard to beat, dramatically speaking. Buchowetzki's unique ability at spectacular romance, so well exemplified in his "Zola Negri" successes, seems to fit Mae Murray as one of her exquisitely tailored gowns. And Mae's gowns are always perfection—no less.

It is a story laid in Spain, in which Mrs. Murray plays a fiery circus gypsy of Barcelona, ensnared, through a colorful set of circumstances, in an intrigue with the governor that places the life of her lover in dire peril, and results in a dramatic climax as sensational as that of "Tosca."

Dirigible And Plane To Be Combined In Projected Leviathan of The Air

By Thomas Mann
International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2 (I.I.N. Special).—A dirigible airplane, capable of carrying 500 passengers!

That's the conception of Claude H. Freese, San Francisco designer, formerly with the Zeppelin Company. He has constructed and is testing a model of his giant air liner, which he hopes to have under construction within a short time.

The central part of the full-size ship is to consist of a duraluminum bag, 786 feet long and 144 feet in diameter at its widest point. This will give the rigid bag a gas capacity of 4,500,000 cubic feet, and enormous lifting power.

From the central part will stretch five sets of wings, each 200 feet long, giving a huge flying surface never reached before in airplane construction.

Five motors will drive the ship, giving it a maximum speed of about 150 miles an hour. So buoyant will be the liner that the speed can be cut down to a few miles an hour, eliminating much of the danger in landing, and permitting the huge craft to land on a field only several times its own size.

Thirty tons of fuel may be carried in the hollow wings, giving the ship a cruising radius of 10,000 miles, according to the estimates made by Freese. There will be space for 500 passengers, oil, supplies, spare parts. There will be sleeping quarters, dining rooms and recreational facilities.

The added weight of engines and wings will make the craft slightly heavier than air. This will permit it to be under full control at all times, and will make it less a plaything of winds and storms than an ordinary dirigible. The ship, however, is to be lighter than water, and of such construction to enable it to ride out a severe storm on the sea.

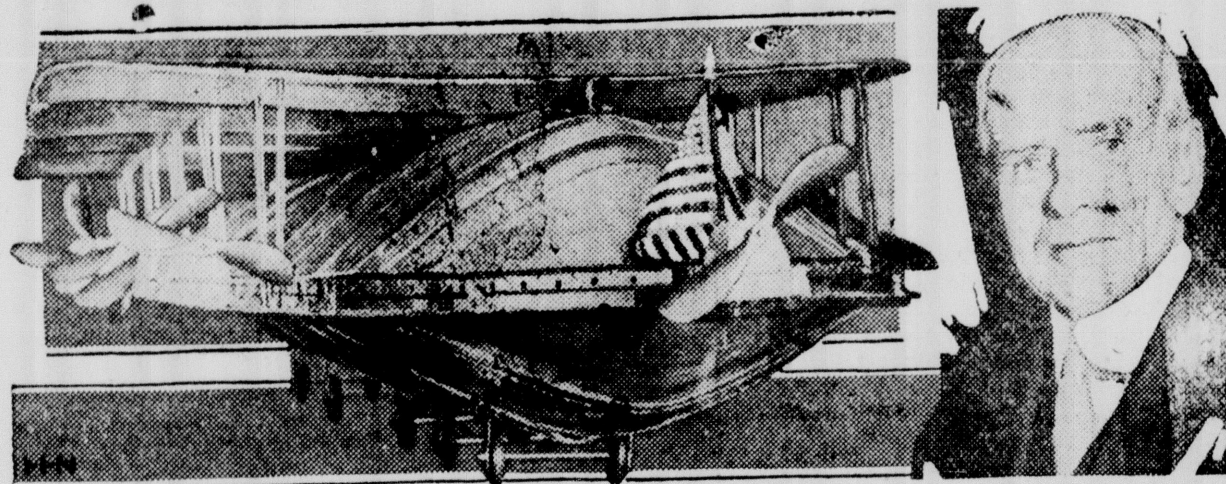

Freese's design has not received Army and Navy approval as yet, and while some experts pronounce it as "possible but not probable," tests on his eight-foot model have not proven the success of a full sized ship. Many difficulties are to be overcome before the Freese bird takes flight, but the designer is confident that he'll be able to take the air in his liner some day.

—Mrs. Samuel Pearson and daughter, Roberta, of Wood street, will leave Wednesday for Methuen, Mass., where they will spend the month of August visiting Mrs. Pearson's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson.

AIR LINER FOR FIVE HUNDRED PASSENGERS!

Then and Now

Once a rival of the great Alexander was Joe Wood, star extra-ordinary of the Boston Red Sox. He joined the team in 1903, and became the outstanding star almost overnight. Later to Cleveland, where he played with indifferent success as an outfielder. He quit baseball to become coach for Yale, a post he's held for some years. Pictures show Wood as Boston's star and as Yale's coach.

SPENCER & SONS

Why should I keep it to myself?

AS THE song had it, "—but I won't be happy, till I make you happy, too." I want you to share with me the joy of a pipe and Prince Albert. I may be prejudiced, but I don't believe you can find the brand of pipe-joy I'm talking about in any other way.

Why, the very moment you open the tidy red tin and breathe that glorious P.A. aroma, you know—then and there—you are going to like this tobacco, and like it lots. And, if you still have the slightest doubt, it will vanish the instant you taste the smoke itself.

Cool as a March rain beating against the window-pane. Sweet as the flowers that attract the honey-bees. Mild as the greeting of a rival—mild, but with that full tobacco body that makes the perfectly balanced smoke. A whole world of satisfaction in every single puff.

Prince Albert has pleased more pipe-smokers than any other tobacco before or since. You can ask any jimmy-piper. But the way to really know is to buy yourself a tidy red tin, tuck a load into your pipe, and light up. That's better than anybody's opinion.

PRINCE ALBERT

—the national joy smoke!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidor, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.
